Government of India.

(Army Branch).
Simla, the 4th May 1939.

To

All Provincial Governments and Administrations.

Sir,

The Government of India have had under consideration the question of the position of Government servants employed under Provincial Governments, etc., who are members of the Army in India Reserve of Officers, in regard to their release by the Governments, etc., concerned on being called to army service.

2. For a proper appreciation of the present position I am, in the first place, to define the conditions under which members of the Army in India Reserve of Officers become liable for army service. The instrument whereby officers in the Army in India Reserve of Officers are actually called to army service is a declaration by the Central Government in the Gazette of India of general mobilization or of a state of emergency. Officers, who joined the Army in India Reserve of Officers prior to the 19th April 1938, have accepted a liability to be called to army service within a specified time limit on the declaration of a state of general mobilization by the Government of India, while officers of the Censorship category are liable for service in the event of national emergency. All officers who joined the Army in India Reserve of Officers after the 19th April 1938, however, have accepted the liability of army service whenever the Government of India consider that a state of emergency has arisen or is imminent. This liability can also be accepte voluntarily by officers who joined before the 19th April 193E

3. It will be observed that an alteration was made on the 19th April 1938, in the conditions under which officers in the Army in India Reserve of Officers become liable for army service. The reasons for this alteration are that, in the present state of international relations, it appears that a formal declaration of war will be exceptional and that a declaration of a state of general mobilization may well be impossible.

In making this change, however, the Government of India emphasised that there was no intention of enforcing the revised liability to army service except in cases of grave national emergency necessitating measures similar to those of geheral mobilization.

4. Whether they joined the Army in India Reserve of Officers before or after the 19th April 1938, all officers applying for commissions therein, were required to obtain the consent of their superior authority. The record of this consent was endorsed on the form of application, and this practice still obtains

It will, therefore be apparent that the essence of the contract between the Government of India and an officer in the Army in India Reserve of Officers is that the latter's services should be immediately available, within an agreed time limit, when required by the Government of India. To make this availability dependent on a third party party would, therefore, strike at the whole basis of the contract, and it is for this reason that the assent of the officer's superior authority is always obtained and recorded when an officer joins the Army in India Reserve of Officers.

6. It has, however, recently come to the notice of the Government of India that certain Provincial Governments etc., do not realize the full implications of the liability for army service accepted by their servants who hold commissions in the Army in India Reserve of Officers; and that they may desire to qualify the accepted liability by making it dependent on their own decision as to whether or not the services of an officer can be spared from his civil employment when he is called to army service.

7. It is clearly impossible for the Government of India to continue to employ as officers in the Army in India Reserve of Officers individuals who may not be available for army service when required. It is not, therefore, desired to retain in the Army in India Reserve of Officers, or to recruit thereinto, any individual whose availability is qualified by the fact that his superior authority may not be able to spare his services when they are called for. For this reason it is desired that Provincial Governments, etc., should be given the opportunity of reconsidering the permission they have given to such of their servants as already hold commissions in the Army in India Reserve of Officers.

8. I am to forward herewith a list showing the names of officers who, with the permission of Provincial Governments, etc., now hold commissions in the Army in India Reserve of Officers, and to request that the Government of Madras / Bombay / Bengal / etc. should examine this list and inform this Department, as soon as possible, of the names of those officers (a) who will continue to be liable for army service within the agreed time limits, and (b) whose services will be available, but not until after 60 days from the date of call to army service.

In the event of any names having been inadvertently omitted, it is requested that they may be included in your reply.

Officers, whose availability is contingent on the circumstances that exist when they are called to army service and cannot, therefore, be guaranteed, will be requested to resign their commissions.

9. I am to request that, in future, you will be so good as to give permission to join the Army in India Reserve of Officers only to those individuals whose services will be available without qualification when they are called to army service.

I am, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

G Hind Colonel,

Deputy Secretary to the Government of India.

In comtinuation of this Department letter No.B/53982/A.G.3, dated the 4th May 1939, regarding the position of Government servants employed under Provincial Governments, etc., who are members of the Army in India Reserve of Officers, I am directed to forward a copy of letter No. S/87-1/39, dated the 10th June 1939, from the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras.

Cp. 24 —

2. The Government of India are of the opinion that by the acceptance of the suggestion of the Government of Madras distinct advantages would result to both civil and military authorities and accordingly propose to furnish the Government of Madras, as early as practicable, with a complete and up to date list, showing their category and period of availability of members of the Army in India Reserve of Officers, who are serving under that Government and also to supply them quarterly with information regarding subsequent additions to or corrections required to be made in this list.

3. As the Government of India believe that similar lists of officers serving under your Government will be of use to you, I am to enquire whether you desire to be furnished with copies of such lists in future. If you do, the lists will be sent as a matter of convenience, direct to the Provincial Government or Administration concerned by the Military Secretary, Army Headquarters, and the lists of the medical and dental categories of the Army in India Reserve of Officers by the Adjutant General in India (Medical Directorate).

Military - Army in India Reserve of Officers - List of members.

With the Government of India, Defence Department (Army Branch) letter No. B/53982/A.G.3, dated the 4th May 1939, you sent a list of the officers of this Government who are members of the Army in India Reserve of Officers showing the category in which they are placed and the period within which they should be made available. A list giving these details would be of great value to this Government in making arrangements for the relief of office etc., at a time of emergency, particularly if only certain categories were being called up. Though this Government can prepare their own list of members they have ordinarily no information about the category to which officers are allotted, and, in the past, they have had no information about the period within which officers would be required to join their appointments. Possibly in the future information on the latter point will be available. But it would be of great assistance to the Department of this Government dealing with war preparations, if they could be furnished periodically by the Defence Department of the Government of India, with an up-to-date list showing the servants of this Government who belong to the Army in India Reserve of Officers with their category and period of availability. I am therefore directed to request that, if there is no objection, such a list may be supplied to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Madras, quarterly or at such intervals as may be convenient.
